A New Convention.

We publish, to-day, the call of the War Democrats of Wisconsin for a state convention to be held in this city on the 17th of September. The genuine patriotism of its sentiments will strike every one as in remarkable contrast with the treasonable utterances of the copperheads who falsely style themselves democrats. The movement attracts a great deal of attention throughout the state. It will be seen that the new democracy propose to strike out for themselves, and are not afraid to organize a distinctive party, which, while it is democratic in its principles, gives a cordial support to the prosecution of the war against traitors.

The Tragedy at Lawrence.

The terrible tragedy at Lawrence strikes us all with a chill of horror. Think of a peaceful city (like our own beautiful Janesville, for instance,) in the midst of the clamorous of the night charged upon by eight hundred demons, who shoot down the terror-stricken inhabitants, throw wounded and dead into flames of burning houses, or cast them into wells and cisterns. No pity; no mercy shown to any. The barbarism of the Sioux pales before the bloody border ruffians of Missouri. This dreadful sacrifice comes of the conservative policy of Schofield, Gamble and Ewing, permitted if not encouraged by the war department. Let it end now, and let brave Jim Lane and gallant Jennison take vengeance upon the whole tribe of Missouri secessionists, and strike down all pro-slavery villains who stand in the way, whatever their position or pretensions.

We understand that a meeting of the people of Rock county will be called to express their sympathy for the suffering people of Lawrence and to send them such aid as the occasion requires. The notice will appear to-morrow.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Card.

Mr. Editor:—From the published proceedings of the republican convention at Madison, we learn that it appointed us to its state central committee. We have consented, after the mature deliberation which its importance merits, to join in the pending enterprise of organizing the loyal democracy of Wisconsin, believing that we can thereby most efficiently support the government during the present war, which we regard as the highest duty of patriotism; we therefore decline this appointment. In these times when many good men deplore the existence of parties at all, no man ought to belong to more than one.

MAT. H. CARPENTER,
CHAS. D. ROBINSON.

So it seems that the hospitable tender of a union with the republicans is declined by Messrs. Carpenter and Robinson, and we have little doubt that the other democrats thrust into the central committee by Senator Doolittle will follow the example of these gentlemen. This is a rebuff hardly less mortifying than the rebuke the Senator received in the early proceedings of the convention. While he is attempting to break up the organization to which he owes his high position and influence, and gather together the elements of a new party, of which he is to be the leader and recipient of its favors, meanwhile crying "no party," they are intent on the re-organization of their old forces, and politely decline the entertainment to which they have been invited, preferring to sit at a table of their own cooking. The high-keyed note of "no party" meets with no response from them. They believe in parties, and propose to organize for themselves.

The declaration of Messrs. Carpenter and Robinson suggests a practical difficulty in the peculiar organization of the state central committee which it may be well to consider. The resolution of Senator Doolittle appointing this committee, after naming the democratic portion, adds "or such persons as they may designate," shall, with the republican portion, constitute the committee. Now, suppose all these democrats decline, and this event is not impossible, and with the nice sense of honor exhibited by Messrs. Carpenter and Robinson, refuse to name their substitutes, who is to fill the vacancies in that important committee? The convention has fully parted with that power, and taken it from the balance of the committee. We then have half a committee when a full one is especially desirable. Or, suppose the remaining democrats choose to exercise the absolute power given them, and put in E. G. Ryan and Pump Carpenter, what is to prevent them from doing so? This latter contingency is not likely to happen, but the opportunity left for doing it is a striking commentary upon this remarkable performance of the distinguished senator.

Meeting of Loyal Democrats.

At a meeting of loyal democrats, held at the Newhall House in Milwaukee, on Thursday, the 20th day of August inst., to take into consideration the course to be adopted by them, the following call for a mass convention was unanimously agreed upon.

WM. C. ALLEN, Pres't.
CHAS. D. ROBINSON, Sec'y.

Call for a Mass Convention of the Loyal Democracy.

The convention which assembled at Madison on the 6th inst., in the name of the democracy of Wisconsin, has put forth a ticket and platform embracing the "Ryan Address" as the political creed of the democratic party.

The undersigned citizens from various parts of the state, as members of that political organization, have observed this proceeding with the greatest anxiety and regret. It is to us utterly impossible upon the ticket, but to acquiesce in the pernicious doctrine, the vindictive jealousies, and laudible patriotism displayed by this platform, or to approve of its profound silence on the duties and necessities of the hour.

At a time when the government of the United States is struggling for its very existence amidst blood and carnage, we observe this convention promulgating a voluminous and inflammatory creed, which contains no response to the unspeakable interests which this immense rebellion threatens with instant ruin. The flourish of patriotism which attends some of the phrases, can mislead no one, while all the grander questions of the times give way to bitter denunciations of the government, too well calculated to weaken public confidence, as to infuse distrust if not insubordination.

"Ryan Address," now proposed to be permanently made a party text book, is strenuously made at first, and fell like a fire-brand into our ranks, being repudiated by leading democrats in every portion of the state. It is still considered hostile to the harmony and concentration of our political strength, and has lost us the sympathy and support of nearly all the soldiers in our armies; indeed, as long as its rank disloyalties are insisted upon as an article of faith, the defeat and humiliation of the party are certain.

We cannot sanction the heresies contained in this platform, nor are we willing that the glorious party of Jefferson and Jackson—that party to whose guidance the destinies of our country have so often been safely confided, should pass into the control of this arrogant and disloyal faction.

Under these circumstances, the duties and true position of the loyal democracy seen plain and clear, and that is to take action at once, to organize a real and sound democratic party, which shall be unflinching in principle, loyal in practice, true and free in speech, and devoted to the government, however and by whomsoever administered; against all foes, open or concealed, at home or abroad, in the north or in the south.

It cannot be denied that a loyal assembly have the right to place their convictions and resolutions before the public, and submit their reasons for declining a course of political co-operation with apostates from the historical principles of our party.

We, the undersigned, therefore assume the responsibility of calling upon the loyal democracy of Wisconsin, who are opposed to the copperhead platform, and who coincide in the views we have expressed, who are in favor of the resolute prosecution of the war to crush out this wicked conspiracy against our common liberties, who are in favor of unconditionally supporting the government in its efforts to crush out the rebellion, and in replenishing its armies until the supremacy of the constitution shall be re-established over every state and upon every spot of our domain, to meet in a mass convention to be held in the city of Janesville, at 12 o'clock, M., on the 17th day of September, 1863, for the purpose of mutual consultation, and to decide upon such steps as shall appear conducive to the interests of the loyal democracy and the welfare of the country.

It would be in vain to add stronger reasons to induce all who love the cause of their country, or appreciate its danger, to come from every part of the state to this interchange of patriotic sentiments. We therefore extend a cordial and urgent invitation to all loyal citizens, of whatever political views, to join with us in this assembly. Let the meeting be an expression of the youth, the strength and manhood of this gallant state.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

CAIRO, Aug. 21.

Cor. Chicago Journal.—My time is very limited, therefore the necessity of abridging.

By information just received from Maj. Gen. Ord, in command of the 13th army corps, I learn that there have been enacted scenes on the steamboats bringing reinforcements from Vicksburg, that chill the heart at the bare recital.

As an example, the steamer Hannibal, Capt. Conway, left Vicksburg on the 16th inst. Quartermaster Lyman—may his name forever live in infamy—packed 1200 men on board, with accommodations unfit for hogs. General Grant, having gone down the river on a visit, is not responsible. The second day out, three died from a surfeit of fish.

The wounded, sick and worn out soldiers were charged ten cents per glass (and more if they could get it) for tea water, the ice belonging to the government!

Gen. Ord, on the second day out, could not stand the pressure, and left. These are things over which corps commanders have no control, the transportation matters receiving their orders from Washington.

This outrageous treatment of our soldiers, by heartless river sharks and incompetent quartermasters, deserves the immediate attention of the authorities.

REARVORTH, Aug. 22.

From citizens of Lawrence who arrived here for supplies and medicines, I have gathered the following particulars regarding the burning of that city by Quantrill.

The list of killed and wounded numbers some hundred and eighty, the majority of whom were killed instantly. The houses that remain standing are filled with killed and wounded of all classes. From the ruins of the burned houses many charred remains have been taken out. Other victims are being found.

But one hotel is standing, Quantrell having spared it in consequence of his having made his home there some three years since, without expense, but its proprietor was shot.

Among the most prominent citizens, the following are known to have been killed: Gen. G. W. Gallimore, mayor of the city, and his son, J. G. Lowe, Josiah Clark, J. P. Thorp, Dr. Griswold, James Eldridge, Chas. Ferrine, Col. Stone, two brothers named Gill, A. W. Griswold, Frederick Kimball, Thomas Murphy, John Spear, Deacon Abrams, named Dill, Addison Waugh, Deacon Allison, George Hart, Judge Carpenter, Har. Snyder, August Ellis, Samuel Elman, Dwight Coleman, Lewis Swan, R. Loomis, John Crane, Levi Gates, two brothers named Hauge, John Evans, J. W. Bell, and Messrs. Keith, Brown, Twitch, Palmer, Sargeant, Delinski, Albach, Powers and Brant. They were killed instantly, most of them in their own houses, with their wives and children crying to them, while the murderers placed pistols to their bodies and shot them.

The following are mortally wounded: Joseph Eldridge, Mr. Baker, (firm of Ride-nour & Baker), Mr. Williamson, Geo. Hall, J. P. Hanson, W. S. R. Lykins.

In one case the guerrillas drove twelve men into one house and shot them, and then burned the building. The inhabitants fled into the ravines and bushes, and the hands stood on the banks and fired into them, killing and wounding scores.

Twenty negro recruits were shot. The whole lot of money that could be found in the pockets of citizens, or in the houses, and stole all the ladies' jewelry, even to rings on their fingers.

Jim Lane escaped on horseback, rallied about 200 men, and with his little army followed and overtook Quantrell twelve miles south of Lawrence, where a fight took place, and with what result is unknown.

Quantrell is now retreating towards Missouri, burning everything on his route. It is not expected he will be intercepted by our forces, and will probably get away without loss.

No resistance was made at Lawrence, the people being shot down as they ran through the streets in their night clothes. Their bodies were thrown into wells and cisterns.

The citizens had been expecting such a raid from threats Quantrell had made, and had organized military companies for defense. The citizens of Lawrence were under arms until the supremacy of the constitution shall be re-established over every state and upon every spot of our domain, to meet in a mass convention to be held in the city of Janesville, at 12 o'clock, M., on the 17th day of September, 1863, for the purpose of mutual consultation, and to decide upon such steps as shall appear conducive to the interests of the loyal democracy and the welfare of the country.

riffed guns of those vessels for about an hour, with marked effect.

Sumter fired about fifty return shots, doing no damage to the vessels, whilst the wall of Sumter was badly scored.

Fleet Captain Geo. Rodgers of the Catalina, went up within 100 yards of the beach front of battery Wagner. After firing a number of shots, a shot from Fort Wagner broke a piece of the interior lining, which struck on the head of Commander Rodgers, instantly killing him, as well as Paymaster Woodbury, who was standing at his side.

Both of their heads were split open. These were the only persons injured on land or water during the rest of our engagement.

The damage done to Fort Sumter by the siege batteries of General Gilmore, is visible without the aid of a glass. The rebels had erected a false wall against the wall exposed to our batteries. It extended to within ten feet of the top of the wall, over forty feet high and ten feet thick, and this wall is now a mass of ruins, while the old wall is bored full of deep holes, the parapet crushed and ragged, and the northwest corner gashed and cracked down almost to the water's edge. The harbor and Stono river are filled with torpedoes. About a dozen of them have been picked up in the Stono. One was exploded under the Palapaco, raising a foot of water, but doing her no harm. None of the vessels were injured in the least. The Admiral and his officers are confident in the ability of the monitors to batter down Sumter. He is, however, anxious to save the vessels for the heavy work required of them after Sumter is taken, and to let the army reduce Sumter, if possible.

The fleet, except the Weehawken and Nahant, all returned before 2 p. m.—but they remained to keep Wagner silent during the evening, and to prevent the re-mounting of guns. The shore batteries continued firing the whole evening and night on the walls of Sumter, with good effect.

This morning, the batteries are steadily at work. The Weehawken and Passaic are keeping batteries Wagner and Gregg silent, and up to noon, when the Arkansas sailed, the remainder of the fleet were lying at their moorings.

Gen. Gilmore announces that the work thus far has been entirely satisfactory; that the fort is greatly damaged, and the work progressing finely.

Admiral Dahlgren is much depressed by the loss of Fleet Captain Rogers, but is highly gratified with the operations of the fleet and army, and very hopeful of ultimate success.

The Arkansas left the fleet at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. At that time huge volumes of smoke were seen issuing from Sumter, as if from the burning of cotton, and the officers of the Arkansas believe the fort would be captured or entirely consumed by noon.

Her guns were replying feebly to ours. Capt. Gregg has been entirely silenced. Wagner still holds out. The bombardment continued without cessation during Tuesday night, and was renewed Wednesday morning, and when the Arkansas left the firing was furious, the Ironsides, monitors and shore batteries being all engaged.

Two refugees from Savannah, named James I. Califf and Jno. Coburn, are passengers on the Arkansas. They report nearly a famine in Savannah.

To-Day's Report.

(Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.)

MORNING DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.

A letter dated on the 19th from Morris Island to the Herald, states that the fire from our batteries still continues, and the masonry of Sumter is gradually crumbling and tumbling into ruins. The rebel fleet was shot away twice on the 18th, but was replaced. A violent storm raged on the 18th and continued on the 19th. The land batteries, however, got perfect range and are demolishing the wall. The holes are deepened, fissures widened and the seams enumerated a hundred fold since yesterday. The parapet is completely demolished above. At the southeast angle it is mostly torn away. Through the breaches made by our projectiles the opposite wall is plainly seen. Desperates state that the effect of our shot on Sumter was terrible, and that four men were killed, and six in Wagner on Monday. The rebel batteries on James Island continued a heavy fire, but without much damage.

Another letter of 20th to the Herald says: From one end of our lines to the other our guns are pouring in fire against the walls of Sumter, but still it holds together. It will be gradually torn to pieces. The iron clads moved up a breast of Sumter, last evening, but a heavy sea prevented their operating. The gale, to day, is subsiding. More guns were mounted at the front last night. Our heaviest pieces have not opened yet. The steamer New Brunswick stranded upon the bar, her cargo is being taken out by lighters. The numerous torpedoes are now powerless for harm as effective measures have been taken to avoid them. The health of the troops is good, and they are in excellent spirits.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.

All day yesterday the bombardment was more furious than on any previous day. The Ironsides, six monitors and six gunboats, and all the enemies land batteries, opened on Wagner at daybreak, throwing 20 shells per minute at our works. This continued till 11 o'clock, when the fleet and land batteries turned their attention to Sumter. The Ironsides and six monitors approached within three-fourths of a mile of Sumter, and battered vigorously against the south face. Sumter replied from her barbette guns. The contest lasted about three hours, when the fleet having been struck very often, stood out of range with their flags at mast head. It is supposed that one high Yankee officer had been killed. The enemy's land batteries of 200-pounder Parrott guns kept up a constant fire yesterday evening and all last night against Sumter. The roar of cannon heard in the city was tremendous. The casualties at Sumter yesterday, were one killed and thirteen wounded. Among the killed is Capt. Wampler, chief engineer at Fort Wagner. The cannonade was resumed at daybreak this morning, and now, at 9 a. m., is progressing with great vigor. Batteries Gregg and Wagner are unimpaired.

Charleston, August 19th.—The enemy's land batteries kept pounding away at Sumter throughout yesterday, with their heavy Parrott guns—comparatively little firing against Wagner, on which the enemy can make no impression whatever. A monitor engaged Wagner yesterday afternoon, but was soon driven off. No casualties among our troops yesterday. Last night was dark and windy and no firing took place, but at day-light this morning the enemy's Parrott guns reopened on Sumter, firing quite rapidly. This still continues, our James Island batteries replying.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

WE have no report this afternoon.

Two petrified men have been found near Castlemaine, in Australia. They were in a sitting posture—veins, muscles, finger-nails, teeth, &c., all perfect. One had a stone axe by his side.
